

“Home” - written and performed by Chad Price

Tell me something that you dreamed up last night,
Did I make an appearance?,
Because you sure made one in mine,
I placed a diamond ring on your finger but you complained about the stone,
Even in my dreams you can't leave well enough alone,

I use to know I use to know,
Where all these roads use to go,
I'll fight 'til the end,
I'll find you again,
Be the light that guides me back home,

Remember back when I use to sing you that song?,
I messed up all the words and got the chords all wrong,
But you would sit and listen with a smile so real,
You said it's not about the words, it's about the way I made you feel,

I use to know I use to know,
Where all these roads use to go,
I'll fight 'til the end,
I'll find you again,
Be the light that guides me back home,

Where is home now?,
'Cuz I can't find it,
Wherever you are is how we use to define it,
Well I still remain,
I stand unchanged,
Unwavering love,
We'll find a new way,

Find a new way,
Oh oh oh,
Oh oh oh baby baby,
We'll find a new way,
Oh oh oh,
Baby baby yeah,
Guide me back home,
Guide me back home,
Yeah yeah yeah,
Come on and guide me back,

I use to know, I use to know,
Where all these roads use to go,
I'll fight 'til the end,
I'll find you again,
Be the light that guides me back home,
(X2)
Come and and guide me back,
Oh oh oh,
Oh baby baby yeah,
That guides me back home,
