

“Clean Slate” - written and performed by Chad Price

Can't believe the mess we made,
April rain come wash away,
Cleanse me of my troubled mind,
Erase the words between the lines,
I try to heal but I obsess,
I fade away while you convalesce,
Is this not what you wanted?,
I'm absolutely haunted,

A wrong choice might lead to the right place,
Sad songs might move you the right way,
I wanna smile in the face of a heartbreak,
I'm working my way to a clean slate,

I'll take some blame,
I've misbehaved,
I've broken more hearts than I have saved,
But I still do not know how to save my own,
But I'm learning how to let it go,

A wrong choice might lead to the right place,
Sad songs might move you the right way,
I wanna smile in the face of a heartbreak,
I'm working my way to a clean slate,

But I'm afraid I'm not like everyone else,
Never coming back to be myself,
Sometimes it takes trying to realize,
A little bit of hurt can make you come to life,
Oh oh oh,

A wrong choice might lead to the right place,
A sad song might move you the right way,
I wanna smile in the face of a heartbreak,
I'm working my way to a clean slate,
I'm working my way,
A wrong choice might lead to the right place,
To a clean slate,
To a clean slate,
