

“Rise & Fall” - written and performed by Chad Price

I don't need your love,
It's time I let that go,
Besides I could live, breath, and feed off your smile alone,
So you take your time and keep sowing your seeds,
Your waves still crash over me,
It's the only embrace I'll need,

It's the rise and the fall of it all,
This too will pass,
Nothing can last forevermore,
It's the rise and the fall,
The beautiful mess of it all,

I don't need your words to keep me sustained,
You can say what you want,
I'm just gonna love you anyways,
And all the while,
We orbit each other,
Despite mile after mile between one another,

It's the rise and the fall of it all,
This too will pass,
Nothing can last forevermore,
It's the rise and the fall,
The beautiful mess of it all,

It's the rise and the fall of it all,
This too will pass,
Nothing can last forevermore,
No, no, no, no, no the rise and the fall of it all,
Nothing lasts forever 'til you came along,
It's the rise and the fall,
The beautiful mess of it all,
